

an international youth event to fight against the darkness of bullying self-injury low self-esteem

5candles

Every day, we are reminded of the darkness overtaking our youth through bullying, self-injury, and low self-esteem.

On December 5, youth around the world will gather online to talk about how to start a revolution against the darkness by being lights in their world and agents of change.

This online 5candles event will provide a free prayer/support hotline for those youth in pain, as well as follow-up tools and resources (digitally) to help equip and empower youth to let their voices be heard.

december 5, 2012
8pm-10pm (eastern)
free for everyone

for more information or to register, visit 5candles.eventbrite.com

sponsored by:

